

WHAT ARE PFAS?

“PER- AND POLYFLOUROALKYL SUBSTANCES”

PFAS is a group of industrial, human-made chemicals. They are known as “forever chemicals” because they do not breakdown easily in humans, animals, or the environment. A number of PFAS studies have shown that they can potentially harm human health.

WHAT ARE THE SOURCES OF PFAS IN WATER?

