

HOW DO PFAS GET INTO WELL WATER?

When PFAS are released on land, they can soak into the ground and enter groundwater. Many people get their drinking water from groundwater through private and public wells. If this groundwater is contaminated with PFAS, nearby wells and drinking water may also be contaminated.

