

Presented by the NC PFAS Testing Network

Fayetteville Forum:

PFAS Updates in Food and Ground Water

Feb. 26, 2020 | 6-8 PM

Shaw Auditorium inside the School of Business and Economics
East Campus, Fayetteville State University
bit.ly/ShawAuditorium

Learn how PFAS may be affecting food and ground water in your community.

Presentations, including NC DHHS survey results, will be followed by an expert panel to answer your PFAS questions.

David Genereux, PhD
North Carolina State University

Owen Duckworth, PhD
North Carolina State University

Jacqueline MacDonald Gibson, PhD
Indiana University

Virginia Guidry, PhD
NC Dept. of Health and Human Services

NORTH CAROLINA
PFAS
Testing Network

The Network is funded by the North Carolina General Assembly through the NC Policy Collaboratory and includes researchers from seven universities across the state. Ongoing research has been focused on different aspects of PFAS exposure including sampling air, water, animals, and crops in North Carolina. Visit ncpfastnetwork.com for more information.

This event is free and open to the public - no registration required